OBJECTIVES
At the conclusion of the conference, participants should be able to:

- Identify which patients should be screened for low testosterone levels and appropriately treat those patients with hypogonadism based on evidence-based guidelines.
- Counsel patients regarding the risks and benefits of both surgical and nonsurgical options for stress urinary incontinence based on the updated 2009 AUA guidelines prior to undertaking treatment of the patient.
- Identify the latest techniques to diagnose and treat conditions such as bladder cancer, including hexyl aminolevulinate (HA) fluorescence cystoscopy.
- Identify urologic conditions that can be treated with botulinum toxin, including the benefits and risks.
- Discuss the risks and benefits of prostate cancer screening with patients in order for them to make an individual, informed decision whether to undergo testing.
- Identify appropriate patients for laparoscopic partial nephrectomy and utilize new techniques such as orifice transluminal endoscopic surgery.
