OBJECTIVES
At the conclusion of this activity, the participant should be able to:

- Identify and describe the anatomy, physiology, and pathophysiology of diseases and injuries that lead to the development of physical and cognitive disabilities
- Describe and evaluate the physical medicine and rehabilitation methods and modalities used in treating persons with injuries, diseases, and disabilities
- Identify techniques for risk factor modification, diagnosis, and treatment of predictable medical complications for persons with disabilities
- Describe state-of-the-art clinical practice of physiatry based on current research in physical medicine and rehabilitation and associated fields
- Obtain strategies for success in preparation for Part I, Part II, and/or recertification ABPMR examinations

TARGET AUDIENCE
This activity is intended for physical medicine and rehabilitation physicians, residents and fellows, family medicine physicians, orthopedic surgeons, neuromedicine physicians, and allied health professionals in the field of physical medicine and rehabilitation.

ACCREDITATION/CREDIT DESIGNATION
Baylor College of Medicine is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians. Baylor College of Medicine designates this educational activity for a maximum of 68.50 category 1 credits toward the AMA Physician’s Recognition Award.

Each physician should claim only those credits that he/she actually spent in the activity.

EDUCATIONAL METHODS
Lectures, case presentations, discussions, question and answer sessions, audiovisual presentations, syllabus, mock written and oral examinations.

EVALUATION
Evaluation by questionnaire will address program content, presentation, and possible bias.

NOTICES
In order to meet the requirements of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education, it is the policy of Baylor College of Medicine that all individuals who are in a position to control the content of a CME activity (activity director, planning committee members, and faculty) disclose relevant financial relationships with commercial interests. All identified conflicts of interests are managed to help ensure that the educational material is scientifically based, accurate, current, and objectively presented. Specific disclosure will be made to the participants prior to the educational activity.

Faculty, topics, program schedule, and credits are subject to change.

Audio or videotaping is prohibited without written permission from the Activity Director and the Office of Continuing Medical Education, Baylor College of Medicine, Houston, Texas.
