NEEDS
Advances in basic and clinical sciences create a need for periodic update among practicing pediatricians. This is borne out by previous participants' course evaluations, the perceptions of the planning committee, and a review of the 2005 Content Specification and PREP Study Guide published by the American Board of Pediatrics (ABP) to help pediatricians prepare for the knowledge component of the ABP Program for Maintenance of Certification in Pediatrics.

Comments of participants from the 2005 meeting indicate the following requested topics:
• migraine headaches
• obesity management strategies
• pediatric hypertension
• developmental and psychological topics
• pediatric orthopedics

Using the 2005 PREP Study Guide which outlines basic information that all pediatric professionals should know, the planning committee identified numerous topics necessitating review. These include:
• acute pediatric airway obstruction
• fever in early childhood
• infections of the urinary tract
• diabetes management
• immunization administration controversies
• influenza epidemiology and prevention

Based on data acquired from these sources, the planning committee has designed an educational program to help physicians and other healthcare professionals who care for children and adolescents meet their needs for education on these and other topics.

OBJECTIVES
At the conclusion of the activity, participants should be able to:
• Discuss the strategies and impact of newer approaches to the prevention and management of a variety of infectious diseases
• Describe new concepts regarding the cause and interventional management approaches of imminent health problems and chronic diseases
• Proactively assess and direct interventions for potential or real psychological and learning problems of childhood
• Employ the concept of reflective thinking in the approach to patient care
• Explain and appropriately diffuse parental and/or patient apprehension regarding acceptable variations in anatomical and physical findings

TARGET AUDIENCE
Pediatricians • Family Practice Physicians • General Practitioners • Physician Assistants • Nurses • Nurse Practitioners

EDUCATIONAL METHODS
Lectures • Case Presentations • Audiovisual Aids • Interactive Audience Response System • Syllabus • Question and Answer Sessions

EVALUATION
Evaluation by questionnaire will address program content, presentation, and possible bias.
